

Blessed be

Written by Kimberley Moodley

This song was adapted from the books Job and Habakkuk respectively. During our trials, it is so easy for us to give up and lose hope. I pray that as you listen to this song and sing along with it that it will touch your heart and rejuvenate your spirit once again. There is always hope. God is our everlasting hope and no matter what we go through in life, we must still be able to stand and say blessed be the name of the Lord. Job is an excellent example of this because of the many tribulations and sufferings he endured, yet he still could bless the name of the Lord. How much more should we.
